Jennifer Hinson was born in Kingsville, TX and grew up in Southeast Texas. She started working full time when she was 18 years old. After taking a few college courses intermittently, she decided to go back to college and finish what she started. She graduated from Lamar University with a Bachelor of Applied Arts & Sciences in 2008. Then shortly after that, she received her teaching certificate from Region V Education Service Center. She began working at Jasper High School in 2009 as a Family & Consumer Science teacher. She currently teaches Intro to Culinary Arts, Culinary Arts, and Advanced Culinary Arts.
